Sites Of The Month - Great Sites To Check Out In April

Ready, Set, Race!

indianapolismotorspeedway.com – Racing season at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway starts on May 3, and this site can help you prepare. Whether you want to purchase tickets, find camping information, check out photos, or just learn more about events, you'll find it here. Visit the Get the Gear section for hats, t-shirts, and more.

Plant A Tree For Earth

forestnation.com – Earth Day is April 22, and you're invited to celebrate by planting a tree. ForestNation has a goal of one billion trees planted on this day to give back to Earth and help stabilize its climate. When you buy your tree from ForestNation, the organization will plant another in a developing country.

Grow Your Fruit and Veggie Knowledge

fruitsandveggiesmorematters.org – The latest guidelines from the USDA suggest that Americans fill half their plate with fruits and vegetables at each meal. This site makes it easy to use these nutrition stars in your meal planning. Check out the Nutrition Databases for how to select, store, and prepare dozens of healthful foods.

Fun In The Sand

thisissand.com – Remember how fun it was to play with sand when you were a kid? Now you can get the same experience, even if you're hundreds of miles from the nearest beach. This desktop application (that's also available for mobile devices) enables you to choose colors of sand and make your own artistic creations.

This Month's FAQ - How to Stop Videos From Auto-Playing On Facebook

Question: When I open Facebook, every video in my feed start playing automatically. Can I make it stop?

Answer: The short answer is yes! And you have good reasons to want to do so. All those videos can use up your computer's power and might not be appropriate for the environment where you're watching them (such as work). Not to mention, it can be just plain annoying. To turn off this feature in Facebook, follow these instructions:

1. From your Facebook home page, in the upper-right corner, click the down arrow, and select Settings from the menu.
2. On the next screen, in the left column menu, choose Videos.
3. Under Video Settings, next to Auto-Play Videos, click the down arrow, and select Off. The process for turning off this feature on your Facebook app is similar. Tap the menu icon, go into Settings, and find the video option from there.
