Nex-Tech, Golden Belt Telephone, and Cunningham Fiber Highlight Broadband Expansion at BBQ and Broadband Event

On Thursday, September 12, the first-ever BBQ and Broadband event in Northwest Kansas, hosted by the Communication Coalition of Kansas (CCK) in Hays, brought together industry leaders, customers, and stakeholders to discuss the future of broadband in Kansas. Nex-Tech, Golden Belt Telephone (GBT), and Cunningham Fiber were the featured presenters, each sharing their journey to advance broadband access across the state. The event aimed to engage community leaders, business and residential customers, and representatives from various levels of government to highlight the importance of broadband expansion in strengthening Kansas' economy.

The event opened with a welcome from Erik Sartorius of CCK, setting the stage for the day's presentations. Attendees included representatives from the Kansas House of Representatives, Kansas Senate, Kansas Office of Broadband Development (KOBD), Grow Hays, the Hays Chamber, Solomon Valley Economic Development, and Republic County Economic Development.

Throughout the day, Nex-Tech, GBT, and Cunningham Fiber emphasized the critical role that fiber broadband plays in local communities. Each company shared stories about how fiber connectivity has directly impacted their customers' lives, underscoring the transformative power of reliable, high-speed internet access.
